The FCA One Year Bible Blog

Join UCSB athletes, coaches, and friends on the journey as we read through the Bible in 2006!

Information for authors - Printable Version

First, THANK YOU for being willing to be one of our authors! Our hope is to have a minimum of 7 authors (one for each day of the week) and a maximum of 31 authors (one for each day of the month).

Here are few instructions as you begin to post:

- To sign in as an author, go to the blog at www.fcaoneyearbible.wordpress.com, and click on “Log in” (at the bottom right under “Meta”. (You must first be signed out of your own blog site to do this, so you may need to go to your blog, sign out, then return to this site).
- Because we want posts to be available immediately in the morning, we ask that you would write your post the day before, and use 2:00 am as the publish time (one of the links to the right of your post).
- Begin every post with a link to the daily reading from the Online One Year Bible at www.oneyearbibleonline.com.
  - Simply click on the month and day for your particular post, then copy the web address in the window. We’d prefer to use either the Holman Christian Standard Bible (HCSB) or the New Living Translation (NLT).
  - In your post, type Today’s Reading and then highlight it.
  - Click on the “Insert/edit link” icon and paste the web site (select “open in a new window”) and enter.
- Now begin writing your post! You can comment on one section of the reading (for example just Old Testament) or comment on each section (OT, NT, Psalms and Proverbs).
- You can be as creative as you would like with this! If you would like to include pictures that relate to the passage or your comments in some way, please do so!
- A great example of a blog similar to this is www.oneyearbibleblog.com. We thought about just using this blog, but decided it would be more fun to read thoughts of people we know or who are somehow connected with the FCA ministry! We also thought it would be great to gear comments to athletes and coaches where applicable!
- One of the benefits of having so many different authors is readers will really have a chance to see different thoughts and perspectives of Scripture. Let your posts reflect your personality, your own experiences, and what God is teaching you as you read. Don’t try to “conform” with the way other authors post ... be yourself!
- Make sure you select your name as the post author (to the right).
- It would be really helpful if you would choose a category for your comments. For example, if you were posting about John 1, you might use/create a category “Baptism”. You can create as many categories for your post as you think might be helpful.
  - This will allow readers to search the entire blog by category (rather than sifting through 365 days of reading!)

- You can see how this can be a great tool for our athletes and coaches as they grow in their faith!

For your first post, you may want to get on the site two days early and become familiar with the blog! If you have any questions, email Jen Price at jenprice@fca.org ASAP!
